14. Samples

Samples of the innovation are required for the official jury meeting on 30th November 2018 so that the jury can judge the innovation effectively. Samples are only made available to the jury members and the organisers of the competition. In no circumstances will they be made available to any third parties.

Samples must be delivered free of all expenses to the organisers' address in Düsseldorf 30th November 2018.

If for any reason samples cannot be provided (for example because of size or weight, or because the innovation is a service or abstract process), please provide adequate documentation in the form of photographs, videos or PowerPoint presentations or similar which clearly explain the characteristics and function of the innovation.

Samples are supplied at the entrant's own expense and at his own risk. Entrants are responsible for all aspects and costs of transport, insurance, customs duties, tax etc. Deliveries for which the organisers are required to pay additional costs such as customs duties will be refused by the organisers.

Samples, documentation and other materials supplied by entrants for the jury meeting will only be returned to entrants if this has been specifically agreed to in writing by the organisers. In such cases entrants may arrange with the organisers to collect these materials entirely at their own risk and expense from a location specified by the organisers. All samples, documentation and other materials not collected in this way may be disposed of or destroyed by the organisers at any time but not earlier than 14 days after the jury meeting.

15. Photographs

Entrants must supply professional, high quality digital photographs or illustrations of the innovation in printable high-resolution format (300 dots per inch), with a minimum size of 15 x 10 cm (minimum 1800 x 1200 pixel), as JPEG/JPG or TIFF files.

IMPORTANT At least one photograph will be used in press releases and in the official FLIA brochure. It is therefore important that the innovation is presented professionally in the best possible way.
